Last Night's Result
Federals—14 St. Ann's—5
(By Thomas Juno)

Slamming three pitchers for fifteen hits, the Federals scored fourteen runs to slaughter the St. Ann's team on St. Ann's field last night. The "Saints" counted five times.

The game was a treat for those who like slugging in real fashion, but for those who like to see close battles with tight hurling it was just another ball game. It was the first time this season that such a high number of runs were scored by one team.

Six of the Federals' fifteen safe blows were good for extra bases. Three doubles and three triples were among the collection.

Paul Barrett after a successful season with St. Joseph's College returned to his old team-mates and pounded out a single, double, and three-bagger to lead the batters. "Gene" Dugan wasn't very far behind with two singles and a triple.

Brooks' pitching was very good, after a wobbly start when the St. Ann's team scored all their runs. From the second inning the "Saints" made but one hit. Brooks fanned eleven men to bring his total of the season to nineteen.

Both shortstops, Dugan and Roe, were the stars in the fielding department of the game. Spectacular stops and throws were made by each of these two players and many times they pulled the pitcher out of tight spots with nice stops or catches.

The Federals is the only team to win more than one game without being defeated.

Score by innings:

First—A pitched ball struck Gilardi; Pieo hit to Jeffries after Gilardi had stolen second and was safe when Jeffries missed the ball. Gilardi scoring; Angelo walked and stole second; Roe fanned; Oriola's grounder was too hot for Jeffries and Pieo and Angelo counted; Whyno singled past second base, but Oriola went out trying for third; Missera was safe on McDewitt's error and when McDewitt threw the ball to the pitcher's box thinking the umpire had said "Out," Whyno scored; Tosti singled to right; Castor grounded to Dugan.

McDevitt, Cochrane and Barrett opened with singles to fill the bases; Dugan followed with a clean triple to right field, clearing the sacks; Purcell grounded to Roe, Dugan holding third; David hit to Castor and was out at first; Dugan scoring; Jeffries walked; Brooks doubled over first base, counting Jeffries; L. David hit a two-bagger to left, which scored Brooks; McDewitt, up for the second time, rolled to Missera.

Second—Gilardi beat out a hit in front of the plate; Pieo and Angelo whiffed; Gilardi stole second and third and scored on McDewitt's bad throw to third; Roe walked and went to second on a passed ball; Roe stole third and was out trying for home on a hit and run play which failed when the signals were crossed.

Cochrane was passed; Barrett tripled to centerfield; Dugan flew out to Pieo; Whyno dropped Purcell's fly, scoring Barrett; David sacrificed; Jeffries struck out.

Third—Oriola struck out; Whyno rolled to Dugan; Missera struck out. Brooks' singled to center; David forced Brooks, Roe to Pieo; McDewitt forced David, Roe to Pieo; Roe made the third assist of the inning by throwing out Cochrane.

Fourth—Tosti and Gilardi were strike-out victims with a toss-out of Brasso by Dugan in between.

Barrett rolled out; Dugan doubled over Whyno's head; Purcell followed with a triple in the same place; Purcell scored on Whyno's bad throw to the infield; David's liner was killed by Roe; Jeffries singled and stole second; Jeffries counted when Roe erred on Brooks' roller; Pieo saw to it that David was thrown out.

Fifth—Pieo and Angelo breezed; Dugan made a beautiful stop and throw to retire Roe.

McDevitt was hit with a pitched ball; Cochrane beat out a hit to third base; Barrett singled, scoring McDewitt.

Odd Fellows Plan To Attend Two Meetings

Monday evening there will be a district meeting of I. O. O. F., lodges in the eastern districts of Bucks County. The session will be held at Warrington Lodge, No. 447, which is the home lodge of District Deputy B. Frank Cope. It is expected that about 50 will go from the Bristol lodge and the members will leave the lodge rooms at 7.30 o'clock.

Wednesday evening members and candidates of Bristol lodge will visit the Oxford Lodge, No. 14, Frankford, where the second degree will be conferred. The Bristol group will leave here at 7.30 o'clock.

BRISTOL PASTOR MAKES PLEA FOR BETTER S. S.

Rev. Hess Addresses Group
At Convention of Church
School Workers

TWO SESSIONS ARE HELD

"Let us make our Sunday Schools such that when the children leave their homes to face the churches and enter they will know they are in the presence of God," was the plea made by the Rev. George F. Hess, pastor of the Bristol M. E. Church, as representative of the Fifth District Sunday School Association of Bucks County convened in the First Baptist Church yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Hess spoke to the group gathered for the afternoon meeting at 3 o'clock, and gave a helpful and suggestive talk upon "Christian Education in the Bible School."

"We as churches are in the midst of a crisis," continued the Bristol clergyman, referring to the problems of the day, "but thank God we always grow through these crises. The glory of the church is sufficient for a crisis regardless of what that crisis might be," he added.

During the course of his talk, Rev. Hess stated that after studying the modern home "we find that the Christian Church is about the only great means of teaching religious education and history to the young today."

Turning his attention to the teachers of the church school the speaker told that the church has gotten its workers and leaders mainly in the Sunday School. "Are we as Sunday Schools equipped to meet the challenge of the hour?" Some time was then given to the short length of time given to the young for Bible instruction, and the inadequacy of the same. The conditions many of the church schools have to contend with were gone over, and a room for each class was advocated, with an auditorium large enough for the entire group to meet when necessary.

Consideration was given to the calibre of the Sunday School teachers by the Methodist preacher. "It is not enough that a teacher be good, although that is the first requisite. If we would reach the place we wish in our Sunday Schools we must have good teachers trained—A workman that needeth not to be ashamed" is the call of the Sunday School today."

Advocation was made for classes of prospective teachers, and other ways were suggested for bettering individuals in order that they might properly train children along religious lines.

Greetings were extended by two county officers, Dr. John J. Hargrave, Bristol, and S. M. Smyser, Doylestown, county treasurer.

The afternoon session was presided over by William Gentry, president of the district; with Rev. Lewis, pastor of Tullytown M. E. Church, in charge of the devotions; and the pastor of the church at which the sessions were held, Rev. Howard L. Zepp, extending a cordial welcome in a short talk.

A question box, presided over by Rev. William Yeomans, stated supply of the Bristol Presbyterian Church, completed the program for the afternoon.

The speaker at the evening meeting was the Rev. David W. Seigrist, pastor of the Ardmore M. E. Church, who gave a most inspiring message.

Rev. George E. Boswell, rector of St. James's Church, was in charge of the devotional exercises; and special music was rendered by the Baptist choir. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Andrew George Solla, pastor of the Bristol Presbyterian Church of Our Saviour.

Election of officers last evening resulted as follows: William Gentry, president; George Taylor, vice-president; Dr. John J. Hargrave, treasurer; Mrs. H. E. Fowler, Morrisville, secretary.

ASPARAGUS GROWERS COMPETE FOR PRIZES

Two Silver Cups Awarded
At Annual Exhibit In Morrisville

'GRASS' QUALITY GOOD

MORRISVILLE, May 24.—Asparagus growers from lower Bucks county competed for prizes at the annual exhibit of Bucks county asparagus growers held here yesterday and Thursday. The quality of the asparagus exhibited this year was much better than that of last year and there were almost twice as many exhibitors this year. A hail storm about three days before the exhibit last year did much damage to the crop and cut down the number of exhibitors.

Quality, uniformity weight of the bunch and the length of the grass were considered by the judges, W. B. Nissley, State College and C. K. Halliwell, Philadelphia county agent.

First prize winners were given cups contributed by seven lower Bucks county banking institutions. Other winners received cash prizes which were also donated by these banks. Banks contributing were First National Bank of Newtown, Yardley National Bank, Morrisville Trust Company, Bristol Trust Company, Farmers National Bank and Trust Company, of Bucks County, Cornwallis State Bank and the Southampton State Bank. A local newspaper also offered a year's subscription as a prize.

There were 29 single bunch exhibits and fourteen three-bunch exhibits.

Prize winners were as follows:
Single bunch: Thomas Patterson, Junior, Morrisville, first, silver cup; Mrs. Horace Booz, Bristol, second, $7.50; Harry Chapman, Bristol, third, $5; Robert and William Baker, Bristol, fourth, $2.50; Robert Reed, Bristol, fifth, subscription to local paper; H. M. Mershon, Morrisville, sixth; and John C. Helble, Tullytown, seventh.

Three-bunch exhibit: Thomas Patterson, Jr., Morrisville, first, silver cup; Chapman & Baker, Bristol, second, $7.50; Robert and William Baker, Bristol, third, $5; Walter Ellis, Morrisville, fourth, $2.50; Joseph Smith, Fallsington, fifth, subscription to local paper; E. H. Lovett, Yardley, sixth, and Fairview Farms, Bristol, seventh.

Asparagus winning first and second prizes according to County Agent William E. Greenawald, who was in charge, will be exhibited in Doylestown tomorrow.

Participates in Dances Given at Naval Hospital

Mrs. Susan Gallagher and little "Billy" Gallagher on Thursday evening attended an entertainment at the Philadelphia Naval Hospital. It was an entertainment given by the Red Cross for the boys who are confined there. The performance of "Hop O' My Thumb" was given by the students of the Miller School of Dancing on Chestnut street.

There were several solo dances given also. Little "Billy" did several solos for which he was applauded and brought him back on the stage several times for encores.

Following the performance the committee gave a wonderful dinner at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel.

Friday morning, Mrs. Gallagher and "Billy" attended the funeral of her cousin in Philadelphia.

Bristol Exchangees At National Exchange Meeting

Several members of the Bristol Exchange Club attended a business session of the National Exchange Club yesterday afternoon at three o'clock in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, and a banquet at six o'clock in the evening.

The business session was for presidents and secretaries of the various Exchange Clubs in this region and was presided over by National President J. P. Muller, of New York City.

Stenographer—Bob, dear, when we are married, you will continue to give me flowers every day?

Clerk—No, I'll give you a box of seeds and you can grow your own.

"GIRLS' WEEK"

By Catherine Curran Smith

Fling forth your banners to the breeze,
And the Stars and Stripes unfurl.

As we dedicate this week, dear friends,
In honor of "The Girl."

Responsibility is her lot
From early infancy;
So fill for her these seven days
With joy and ecstasy.

Crown the fairest Queen of May,
Place her upon a throne;
With girlish hearts beat in delight,
As fairy, elf or gnome.

She is mother's little helper,
Always helping with the work;
And gladly she will do the chores
That brother often shirks.

When she steps forth in the parade,
So petite, shy and demure,
We gaze upon God's greatest gift—
So innocent and pure.

The hand that rocks the cradle
Rules the world, they always say;
So doff your hat in reverence

The Grand Theatre, on so many occasions the scene of great gatherings of boys during the past several years, for the first time today witnessed the grouping of hundreds of girls for the first affair of this nature during the initial Girls' Week of the borough.

Following a rally in their respective wards the girls proved they could be almost as noisy, but decidedly just as enthusiastic as the opposite sex, and proceeded to make the most of their day in this great week.

A great program was before them for the morning, when Edward Lynn, manager of the Grand, was their host, and he plainly showed he was more than proud to have such a representative group of Bristol's young womanhood gathered at this great playhouse.

Wreathed in smiles were the faces of the little girls and the big ones, glad to have such an opportunity to express themselves in so many ways during the past week; and happy in the fact that today they are being excused from washing dishes, minding the baby, dusting the seemingly unnecessary rooms of the house, and countless other tasks.

It wasn't long after the theatre doors opened that the strains of America, the Beautiful" burst forth from the hundreds of young throats in sweet tones.

Lastly did the young women sing "The Girls' Week Song" words of which were written by Mrs. George Miller, and which was sung to the tune of the Maine Stein Song. Busy has the group been, each practicing the song singly while they went about their tasks and attended to their school duties during the past two days.

Mrs. Harry Pope, chairman of the general committee for Girls' Week, welcomed the pride of the borough, in fitting words expressing her appreciation for the cooperation extended by the girls.

The following prize awards were then announced:

Girls' marble champion, Lucille Layton, 4th Ward, awarded a silver cup, blue ribbon and a friendship circle.

Mary Walker, second ward, won second place and was awarded a friendship circle and blue ribbon; Lucy Paone, fifth ward, won third place and was awarded a friendship circle and blue ribbon.

Winners in the other wards were

MONICKERS

Rare is the man who leaves youth behind without a nickname or monicker that has followed him almost from the cradle and will pursue him to the grave. Nicknames are commonplace; usually they are contractions of one's Christian name or surname, some times they are indicative of one's height, like "Slim" and "Slat," or "Pats" and "Tubby." They are amiable terms, and though homely are not particularly picturesque.

They do not, for example, compare in picturesqueness those specimens remembered from bygone days, such as Charles the Hammer, Oliver the Devil, Ivan the Terrible, Attila the Scourge of God, and Peter the Hermit.

But the modern gangster and racketeer are doing their best to be no less picturesque in their choice of noms-de-plume. The fashion for such nicknames in the United States began away back during the trial of New York's Police Lt., tenant Becker, with Gyp the Blood, Lefty Louie and Bald Jack Rose.

Today, on Chicago's list of "public enemies," appear such names as "Scarface Al" Capone, "Machine-Gun Jack" McGurn, "Bugs" Moran, "Mops" Volpe, "Klondyke" O'Donnell, "Three-Fingered Jack" White, "Polack Joe" Salfis, "Fat" Sammons, all spiritual descendants of "Gyp the Blood."

Police reporters may be the inventors of these colorful titles, but they usually apply to the profession or methods of person to whom they are attached and lend a grandiose personality, however fictitious, to rat-like men who are criminals pure and simple, not adventurers and conquerors.

FOLK SONGS

For a comparatively young nation, the United States has a wealth of folk songs, as many private collections have revealed. Many of the best are the products of isolation, as in the mountains of Kentucky. The negro cabins in the South and the lumber camps of the North have made their contributions. The open cattle ranges of the West, where the cowboys once roamed freely, produced many songs.

But such isolation is largely of the past. Moreover, music of all varieties, from classics to jazz, now penetrates to the remotest communities through the radio and other instruments. But it is a penalty of such progress that the folk songs are in danger of being lost. For this reason, the Library of Congress has undertaken a commendable task of making a national collection of American folk songs. As this is a public enterprise, it should find active support in all sections of the country.

The census is about the last place to recognize the husband as head of the family.

Before the wedding a girl won't believe he is unworthy of her. After the wedding she will tell him he is.

That lawyer who said the eighteenth amendment cannot be a part of the constitution must be the same one who told the man behind the bars: "Why, my dear man, they can't put you in jail for that."

THE CONTRAST IS AMAZING

ODORS of wash-day... rough, red hands... household disorder... hurriedly-prepared supper... irritable wife... unappreciative husband... Or! Snow whiteness... scientific cleanliness... courteously delivered... agreeable wife... contented husband.
